Impacting Overall Quality

Deb Agarwal

AMP Team

What is the most significant cause of errors in the overall pipeline from sensors to end user publications based on the data?

Top

What single change in the overall pipeline would most improve the quality of the published data?

Top

Which of these do you think would be the most useful to your site?

In-person regular visits from an expert to provide training and advice

Training in person

Standardized tools for metadata collection

Standardized data processing for 1/2 hourly data

Information about the publications from your data

What would be the most useful to your site that was not on the previous list?

Top